

Robert Harvey Graham (1928-2004)

Robert (Bob) Harvey Graham was born to Calvin Graham and Ruth Barr on October 4th 1928 in Harrisburg, Dauphin County Pennsylvania. Bob was five years old when his family moved from Harrisburg to Franklinton Pennsylvania. At the time Franklinton was becoming less of a local farming community, and more of a modern suburban commuter town. Here Bob would be his mischievous self, and attend the local schools.

In 1945 Bob quite school, completing the 11th grade, and enlisted in the Navy on January 21st 1946. After receiving his training at Camp Perry Virginia, he left May 29th 1946 for his two year duty in Yokosuka Japan. ¹ After his two year hitch was up in 1948, Bob met and married Dorothy (Dottie) Irene Klinger at six o'clock on November 5th 1948 at the Evangelical United Brethren parsonage in Mechanicsburg Cumberland County Pennsylvania. ² Dottie was born November 28th 1928 to Edwin Charles Klinger and Irene Nary Wrightstone in Shiresmanstown Cumberland County Pennsylvania.

Bob worked as a machinist for the Clymer Machine Shop and Dottie for the J.D. Ferry Company. Our mother wore a blue business style dress, known as a street-length dress, with black accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses. They would live at 35 West Locust Street in Mechanicsburg Pennsylvania. ³

Our parents met through their employers working relationship. The J.D. Ferry Company made manufacturing equipment, like potato chip fryers for Hanover chips, and the Clymer Machine Shop manufactured equipment and automotive parts. Dottie was pregnant when they married, and they began their family.

- i. Joan Eileen Graham was born April 1st 1949 at the Seidle Memorial Hospital, Mechanicsburg Pennsylvania. She married Steven Eugene Brent.
- ii. Rosemary Ann Graham was born March 27th 1950 at the Seidle Memorial Hospital, Mechanicsburg Pennsylvania. She married Paul Conahan.
- iii. Robert Calvin Graham was born September 28th 1952 at the Seidle Memorial Hospital, Mechanicsburg Pennsylvania. His closes of friends called him Boog.
- iv. Deborah Louise Graham was born December 27th 1954 at the Seidle Memorial Hospital, Mechanicsburg Pennsylvania. She married Lawrence Raymond Honaker.

In 1951, Bob began to work with the United States Army Ordinance Supply Section at the New Cumberland General Depot in New Cumberland Pennsylvania. Dottie also got a job working as a secretary for the Navy supply base in Mechanicsburg Pennsylvania. This enabled Bob and Dottie to move from Mechanicsburg to Bob's home town of Franklinton. This move would eventually lead to a rift in our family.

While at new Cumberland, Bob worked a laborer and truck driver until he left in 1962 to open up a garage with his father Calvin. The garage was known as the Graham's Service Center, which was located in Hampton Township, Cumberland County, at the intersection of Carlisle Pike and St. John's Church Road in Camp Hill Pennsylvania. In 1963, our parents purchased a home in Clearview Estates in Hampton Township, which was also across the Carlisle Pike from the garage.

It was during this time Bob became infatuated with a 17 year old Cumberland Valley school girl, Sherry Ann Bowers. Bob also mismanaged the financial affairs of the garage, and he and his father would lose the garage through bankruptcy court. This caused a server split between our father and grandfather, and our father and mother.

Bob and Dottie separated, and she with the children remained at the home in Clearview Estates, while Bob went to live about a mile from the family in the Stough's Mobile Home Park. Bob also went back to work at the New Cumberland supply depot as a quality inspector. He was helped by Ruth Ort, who he would eventually live with on a farm on Kralltown Road in the Dillsburg and Franklinton area of York County Pennsylvania.

Between Bob's continued change in life style and the bankruptcy, Dottie and the children slowly became estranged from the rest of the Graham family living in the Franklinton area. Bob and Dottie remained separated until 1974 when their son mediated their divorce.

Over time, the family slowly grew closer together, and Bob and Dottie enjoyed many events together at their grandchildren's birthday parties and other holidays. Dottie was stricken with diabetes which she eventually succumbed to, and she died one day short of her 73rd birthday on November 27th 2001. Bob died not long after, on December 17th 2004. Even after divorce, they were both laid to rest together in the Dillsburg Cemetery, Dillsburg York County Pennsylvania.

There's always time for irony to remind us of the important things in life.
