Preface

This all started with my wife's grandmother, Bessie Mae Einsig, and quickly turned into an interesting search to unravel family members. Except for my Scottish Graham lineage, I and my wife's entire heritage is German decent, and my wife's Einzig line is the most colorful group of characters I have researched.

The pages filling this pamphlet are research papers on three Einzig brothers, George, Francis, and Fidel, their families, and their cousin Antony. The papers belong to a whole series of papers on the Einzig families of Pennsylvania, which are still being completed. Once completed, they will be a volume of work outlining our exploration into the landscape traveled by The Einzig families during the times they lived.

A few Einzig members settled in Albany County New York, but as of May 2016 they have not been researched. My findings are as accurate as time allowed and the records that exist, but the papers still offer the reader their own family history discoveries. There is also room to improve on my Einzig family perspective.

Introduction

The German Einzig<sup>i</sup> family who came to America originated from the Black Forest region of the 18th and 19th century Württemberg state of Germany. However, the Einzig line may even extended back to 18th century Romania and Hungry. A study of the 18th and 19th German states and county, particularly the topography, is highly recommended. What small village, district, and state the families came from, helps identify family relationships. See the attached Einzig German Origins and Maps at the end of this pamphlet.

There were a number of ways to immigrate to America during the time the Einzig families left Germany. A few popular ones included being indentured to a benefactor, usually through the ship's owner and it's Captain. This indenture servitude could last three years or longer. Another means to immigrate was to apply for immigration from the Country or State, for their approval to leave. Another means was to just leave, without applying for immigration approval, and obtain your own passage aboard a ship.

This makes it difficult to actually locate Einzig members who immigrated, where some were recorded applying for immigration, while others only appear on ship records. Our Einzig branch came to America in 1839-1856 through the many eastern ports of America. Only one ship record could be located, showing a family arriving in Baltimore. A more through search of passenger list is ongoing, with a focus on the Baltimore ports.

- The first known immigration occurred prior to 1839, when at least one Einzig patriarch came to American. Then in August 1839 Barbara Einzig and three children, Johann George, Joseph, and Martin, applied to immigrate to America. Their destination was North America.<sup>1</sup> This suggests there was already an Einzig patriarch in America.
- On December 1843 Barbara Rupp, and five Einzig children, David, Johannes, Maria, Albert, and Mathis, arrive at the Baltimore port. The ships record indicated their place of origin was Ruesten,<sup>ii</sup> a village in the present day region of Tübingen<sup>iii</sup> within the district and parish of Schwarzwald Kreis (Black Forest District) of Württemberg Germany. Their destination was identified as Pennsylvania.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>ii</sup> The word, Ruesten may be a miss spelling of Reusten, which is next to present day Reusten Rathaus located in the Tübingen Region of Baden-Württemberg Germany, which is within the 19th century administrative district and parish of Schwarzwald Kreis (Black Forest District) of Germany.

<sup>iii</sup> Tübingen is within the 19th century administrative district and parish of Schwarzwald Kreis (Black Forest District) of Germany.

- Then on October 1852 Johann and Brigitta Einzig applied for their immigration to America in from Württemberg Germany, along with Ludwig (Lewis), Cummerane, and Theresia Einzig.<sup>3</sup>

With the immigration and ship records and place of origin, the family member's German birth, baptism, and marriage records were located. These German records were then correlated to Pennsylvania civil and church records. All of the research papers will demonstrate that all of these immigrant Einzig members are related, but who is related to who is the subject of debate.

Our early German Einzig family practiced the Roman Catholic faith and traditions. When they arrived in Pennsylvania, many members continued following the Catholic faith, while others joined the German Reform Church, and Lutheran faiths.

After arriving in American, our Einzig American patriarchs headed to a small German enclave in the village of Freystown; located at the East end of York city in York County Pennsylvania. Once in York County, a few Einzig migrated into other German communities in the Berks and Lehigh Counties of Pennsylvania, and from these counties the family spread.

Virtually all of the Pennsylvania Einzig family members were basket makers and weavers, junk dealers, rag peddlers, horse dealers, brush makers, or laborers in odd jobs. They were a close community of trades' people, traders, and peddlers who often worked, traded, and married, among themselves, and who often left their homes for long periods of times to sale their goods and wares.

Family members travelled around the counties of Central Pennsylvania and Northern Maryland, in their wagons. Some travelled with their entire family and camped on the outskirts of the towns and villages they visited, where they would settle, while other members travelled around to sell their goods. This life style and German origins lead many to assume they were Gypsies.<sup>iv</sup>

Although many Einzig members practiced gypsy traditions, and clan structures, many Einsig members didn't travel about, but settled in small villages and towns, and maintained a more traditional American German family life. They continued their family trades, often trading with their Einzig clan, and prospering in the local communities. During the approaching 20th century, a few 3rd generation Einzig members continued their family trades, but most branched out into the industrial and semi professional trades.

<sup>iv</sup> Gypsies were typically members of a traveling people with dark skin and hair who speak Romany and traditionally live by seasonal work, itinerant trade, and fortune-telling. A Gypsy is also a nomadic or free-spirited person.

No matter where Einzig families lived, they always lived near other family members. Either living together in one home, next door to each other, or on the same streets; they were close. This included following a family tradition on naming their children, resulting with children with the same names. Many of these children were often born at about the same time, and would marry into the same families of the same last name; Reinhart and Lauber.

In one case two Einsig women married men with the name of John Rinehart, who were both born to a father, named Alex Rinehart, but had different mothers; Rose and Catherine.

In another example three Einzig children married into the same Lauber family, who also had similar names, Agnes Mary and Mary Ann, who were sisters. Then there were members who married their distant cousins.

This collection of papers represents the families of three brothers; George, Francis, and Fidel Einzig. They migrated from York County to the Lehigh and Berks Counties of Pennsylvania. There was another brother, Martin, but we were unable to locate him or his family. These brothers were the sons of Martin Einzig and Catharina Findling, and great-grandsons of Antonii Einzig and Joanna Pfaus family.

Antonii Einzig

Antonii Einzig and Joanna Pfaus had two known children. <sup>4</sup>

- i. Elias Einsig (b.1767). His two sons immigrated and settled in York County Pennsylvania.
- ii. Georgium Einzig. He and a few of his family immigrated in 1856. George's son, Martin and his family were one of the largest Einzig branches to immigrate to York County Pennsylvania.

Elias Einsig (b.1767)

Black Forest Württemberg Germany

Elias Einsig (b.1767)

Elias Einzig was born, and christened, on January 1st 1767 to Antonii Einzig and Joanna Pfau in Rotenfels, <sup>v</sup> Baden, <sup>vi</sup> Germany. <sup>5</sup>

Elias married Agnes Wiesenfad, <sup>vii</sup> and they had at least three sons.

- i. Joanes <sup>viii</sup> Baptista <sup>ix</sup> Einzig was born to Elias Einzig and Agnes Wiesenfad. Jonas was christened February 13th 1801 as a Katholisch <sup>x</sup> in the village of Bierlingen, <sup>xi</sup> located in the Schwarzwald Kreis <sup>xii</sup> of Württemberg <sup>xiii</sup> Germany. <sup>6</sup>
- ii. Antonius Einsig was born to Elias Einzig and Agnes Wiesenfad. Antonius was christened February 26th 1804 as a Katholisch in the village of Ahldorf, <sup>xiv</sup> located in the Schwarzwald Kreis of Württemberg Germany. <sup>7</sup> Antonius was also known as Anton.

Anton 1st married Theresia Findling <sup>xv</sup> on September 15th 1840 in a Katholisch (Catholic) ceremony in the village of Ahldorf, located in the Schwarzwald Kreis (Black Forest) of Württemberg Germany. <sup>8</sup> Theresa died prior to 1845.

<sup>v</sup> Rotenfels is known today as Bad Rotenfels, which is a neighborhood (district) in the city of Gaggenau. Gaggenau is within the district of Rastatt, Baden-Württemberg Germany. Rotenfels is located some 8 km northeast of Baden-Baden.

<sup>ix</sup> Baptista has a Greek and Roman origin. It means to bathe or dip, and represent St John, the Baptist.

<sup>xi</sup> Bierlingen is about 7 miles West of Ahldorf, and 10 miles South Hailfingen. Bierlingen is a village or small town situated in present day Freudenstadt district, within the Black Forest region of Baden-Württemberg Germany.

<sup>xiii</sup> Württemberg was a state in Germany, 1806 to 1918, located in the area that is now Baden-Württemberg.

<sup>xiv</sup> Ahldorf is a village or small town situated in present day Freudenstadt district, within the Black Forest region of Baden-Württemberg Germany.

<sup>xv</sup> A family oral history indicated that Teresa Findley is the wife of John Einsig (1831-1915), but this has been disproved; Roy Einsig, Warrington Township York County Pennsylvania; great-great-great grandson of John Einzig.

Anton and another person named Anton immigrated to America in March 1846.<sup>9-10</sup> The March immigration record listed Anton's birth date as February 26th 1804, but there was not birth date of the other Anton.

Anton was 40 years old when he married 32 year old Elenora Schmidt on May 17th 1847 by Minister Leingruber at the St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic Church in the city of Baltimore, Baltimore County Maryland. Witnesses were David Einzig and Anna Marie Jerplain.

Anton was naturalized as an American citizen in York County Pennsylvania, renouncing William the 1st king of Württemberg Germany, on October 13th 1854.<sup>11</sup> Anton's family remained in York County Pennsylvania. See Anton Einzig (1804-1858).<sup>12</sup>

- iii. David Mathias Einzig was born to Elias Einzig and Agnes Wiesenfad. David was christened February 17th 1807 as a Katholisch in the village of Hailfingen, located in the Schwarzwald Kreis of Württemberg Germany.<sup>13</sup>

David married Barbara Rupp.<sup>14</sup> Barbara was born March 9th 1804<sup>xvi</sup> to Johannes and Barbra Rupp in the village of Volkmar Weiler Germany. She was christened March 9th in the village of Fachsenfeld in Württemberg, Germany.<sup>15</sup>

We aren't sure what happened to David. He was a witness to his brother's 1847 marriage, but we lost him and Barbara afterwards. The children of David and Barbara remained in York County Pennsylvania. See David Einsig (b.1807)<sup>16</sup>

<sup>xvii</sup> The ship record indicated the ship as a Bark; however the correct spelling is Barque. This type of ship comprises of three (or more) masts, fore-and-aft sails on the aftermost mast and square sails on all other masts. Barques were the workhorse of the Golden Age of Sail in the mid-19th century as they attained passages that nearly matched full rigged ships but could operate with smaller crews.

Georgium Einzig

Black Forest Württemberg Germany

Georgium Einzig

Georgium Einzig was born to Antonii Einzig and Joanna <sup>17</sup> Pfaus in the Wachendorf Parish within the Horb District <sup>xviii</sup> of Württemberg <sup>xix</sup> Germany. <sup>18</sup>

- Translation: Johann Georg Einzig was born in the Wachendorf Roman Catholic Parish located in the Württemberg District of Horb <sup>xx</sup> Germany. The town or village was not identified; the town of Wachendorf is about 162 miles northeast of the village Horb.

Georgium (George) married Brigittam (Brigitta) Dustin (Dussler) <sup>xxi</sup> on April 23rd 1793 as a Katholisch in the village of Ersingen, located in the Karlsruhe District, in the state of Baden Germany.

Brigitta was born to Adami Dussler and Emerentianae Geicherin <sup>19</sup> in the Catholic parish and village of Wachendorf, Horb District in Württemberg Germany. <sup>20</sup>

- Johann George married Brigitta in Ersingen Germany, which is about 153 miles north of Wachendorf where Brigitta was born.

Johann George and Brigitta applied for their immigration to America in October 1852 from Württemberg Germany, <sup>21</sup> and the same record that identified Johannes (Johann) and Brigita (Brigitta) Einzig, listed other Einzig members who immigrated in 1852: Ludwig (Lewis), Cummerane, and Theresia Einzig. <sup>22</sup>

Ludwig (Lewis) was born in the Catholic parish and village of Wachendorf, Horb District, Württemberg Germany. <sup>23</sup> He most likely is 18 years old, or older, and the husband of Teresia. Theresia Einzig was born after 1803 in the Catholic parish and village of Wachendorf, Horb District, Württemberg Germany. <sup>24</sup>

Theresa has not been confirmed by a German birth or baptism record. She was 49 years old with children, when she applied for their immigration to America in October 1852 from Württemberg Germany. <sup>25</sup>

<sup>xviii</sup> Wachendorf is an Ecclesiastical (Church, Clergy, Parish, or Jurisdiction) Roman Catholic Division (Parish) in the Administrative District of Horb, located in the state of Württemberg Germany.

<sup>xix</sup> Württemberg was a state (1806-1918) in Germany, located in the area that is now Baden-Württemberg.

Everyone's places of origins were identified as Ruesten,<sup>xxxiv</sup> which is most likely spelled Reusten, a village in the present day region of Tübingen<sup>xxxv</sup> within the district and parish of Schwarzwald Kreis (Black Forest District) of Württemberg Germany. Their destination was identified as Pennsylvania.<sup>45</sup>

Only one child can be linked to David Einsig and Barbara Rupp.

- i. David Einsig was 13 years old, and was born about 1830.<sup>46</sup>

The other children who immigrated with Barbara Rupp are assumed to be David and Barbara's children.

- ii. Johannes (John) Einsig was 12 years old, and was born about 1831.<sup>47</sup>
- iii. Maria Einsig was 8 years old, and was born about 1835.
- iv. Albert Einsig was 2 years old and was born about 1841.
- v. Mathias Einsig was 1 ½ years old and was born about April 1842.

Einzig German Origins

Introduction

See the map 1855 Germany Map

This paper is meant to help locate the 18th and 19th century German origins of the Einzig family.

Key Records

The following are the records that were found associated with the Einzig family, and their German locations.

1. Elias Einzig was born, and christened, on January 1st 1767 to Antonii Einzig and Joanna Pfaus in Rotenfels, in Baden Germany.
  - Rotenfels is known today as Bad Rotenfels, which is a district in the city of Gaggenau, district of Rastatt, in Baden-Württemberg Germany.
    - Gaggenau "Gaggenaw" is in the present district of Rastatt in Baden-Württemberg, about 55 miles north of the Freudenstadt district in Schwarzwald Kreis
      - Schwarzwald means Black Forest and Kreis means District.
    - Gaggenau is about 14 miles south of Rastatt
  - Baden was the historical state of Germany, and the former Prussian Hohenzollern, and Württemberg, part of the region of Swabia.
2. Johannes (Georgium), Brigita, Cummerane and child, Ludwig, and Theresia with child, applied for immigration on October 1852, their origins was Wachendorf .
  - Wachendorf was a Roman Catholic Parish located in the Württemberg District of Horb<sup>xxxvi</sup> Germany. The town or village was not identified; the town of Wachendorf is about 162 miles northeast of the village Horb, which is with.
3. David Mathias Einsig was born to Elias Einzig and Agnes Wiesenfad. David was christened February 17th 1807 at Katholisch, Ahldorf, Schwarzwald Kreis in Wuerttemberg Germany.<sup>48</sup>
  - Katholisch in German means Catholic

<sup>xxxvi</sup> Horb lies on the eastern margin of the northern part of the Black Forest just above the confluence of the Grabenbach and Neckar rivers. Schwarzwald means Black Forest and Kreis means District, today it is known as Schwarzwald-Baar-Kreis Germany

- Ahldorf is a village or small town situated in present day Freudenstadt district, within the Black Forest region of Baden-Württemberg Germany.
    - Freudenstadt was known as Oberamt Freudenstadt, and dates back to 1806. The city sits in the Black Forest (German: Schwarzwald), which is a great forested mountain range in the state of Württemberg (now Baden-Württemberg) in southwestern Germany. It is bounded by the Rhine valley to the west and south.
  - Schwarzwald Kreis is an administrative area within 19th century Württemberg Germany.
    - Today it is known as Schwarzwald-Baar-Kreis
    - Schwarzwald is German for Black Forest in Württemberg
    - Kreis is German for District
  - Württemberg was a state in Germany, 1806 to 1918, located in the area that is now Baden-Württemberg. It had borders with Bavaria on the east and south, with Baden in the north and west. In the southwest it held a short border with the Prussian province of Hohenzollern and Lake Constance. Today it is known as the state of Baden-Württemberg in Germany.
4. Barbara Rupp and five Einsig children emigrated from Bremen Germany on a ship and arrived at the ports of Baltimore on December 22nd 1843.
- Bremen is in the northwest region of Germany, and sits on the the River Weser, which empties into the North Sea.
5. Barbara and children origins were identified as Ruesten. <sup>49</sup>
- Ruesten may be a miss-spelling of Reusten, which is next to present day Reusten Rathaus located in the Tübingen Region of Baden-Württemberg Germany, which is within the 19th century administrative district and parish of Schwarzwald Kreis (Black Forest District) of Germany. Reusten is since 1971 a district of Ammerbuch, a community just west of Tübingen in Baden-Württemberg district of Tübingen in Germany. The village lies about 12 km west of University City and about 8 km east of Herrenberg.
